"One million pounds is a staggering amount to pay for a player and will have repercussions on further transfer values."

The game went berserk last week with Britain's first million pound transfer involving the move of Trevor Francis from Birmingham to Nottingham Forest. It's a staggering amount of money to pay for one player, no matter how talented he may be and I can foresee widespread repercussions on future transfer values throughout the game.

When the news of the Francis move broke I can imagine directors of some clubs immediately increasing the value of their best players. A player perhaps worth £250,000 before the Francis deal will have suddenly become a £500,000 player but the harsh fact is that unless steps are taken to curb spiralling fees, clubs wanting to sign quality players will have to pay inflated amounts.

An idea I believe would benefit the game would be to put a stop to paying off fees on the 'never never'. At the moment the majority of transfers are completed in this way. The buying club will make an initial down payment and then pay off the rest of the fee at regular intervals over a period of time which can be as long as three or four years.

This, I imagine, is what Forest will be doing. If the whole fee had to be paid in one single payment then I am sure it would bring fees back to a more realistic level.

The other main talking point recently has been the weather. At Leeds we have been fortunate so far as our League games have gone yet you may have read that I was concerned about the decision to play our game at Birmingham. Apparently the referee passed the pitch playable after making a few runs up and down the surface. I still don't think he could have accurately gauged how hard and dangerous some parts of the pitch were simply by doing a few sprints and I repeat what I wrote before the freeze-up started, that both managers should have a say in deciding whether the pitch is fit. I like the idea that Clive Thomas has of using a group of apprentices so that he can obtain a more reliable guide.

I suppose that it all comes down to a matter of opinion and to a certain extent that's what the game is all about. I was interested to read two conflicting reports of England's game against Northern Ireland at Wembley. David Miller tended to criticise England on one page. Alan Thompson took the opposite point of view in the same edition of the Daily Express. Two men working for the same paper and watching the same game yet they came up with two very different impressions of the match.

PICTURES FROM THE PAST

This afternoon we take another nostalgic trip down memory lane with two old team photographs of the Leeds City side from pre-First World War days.

The photographs, originally published as post cards, have been sent to us by Mr. Archie Ballantine of Leeds 6, whose son found them in a collection of post cards dated around the early 1900s.

The first photograph below is dated Season 1905-06 and sharing a place on the front row and among the names listed in the caption is 'Roy the City dog.'

How many United supporters today can remember some of the players listed in that old Leeds City side? Morgan, Dan Dooley, H. Bromage, H. B. Singleton, R. Ray, R. Morriss, W. Clay, J.

F. Hargreaves, E. Bintcliffe, T. Drain.

Although undated, the second photograph carries a post mark 'July 1914.' Note the headwear worn by the directors and trainers and also by most of the spectators in the background. Among the players listed on this photograph are: J. McKeown, T. Naisby, T. McAllister, J. Hamilton, S. Cubberley and W. McLeod, names that were as well known some seventy years ago as the present United stars are today.

If you have any old photographs from United's past or even further back from the days of Leeds City that would reproduce in the match programme, editor Bob Baldwin would be pleased to hear from you.

HE'S IN CHARGE

Our referee for the game against Bolton is Alex Hamil from Wolverhampton who works as a senior foreman in a Government workshop.

Mr. Hamil has been refereeing for twenty years and went on the full League list in 1973 after handling matches in the Midland Combination and West Midland League. He was a linesman for the Scotland—Northern Ireland international in 1976, the Wales—Northern Ireland game last season and he has also refereed in Italy.

BRIAN'S RECORD

Paul Hart's enforced absence from the game against Coventry City at Elland Road earlier this month due to an F.A. suspension means that Brian Flynn is the only player to have turned out in all United's League and Cup matches so far this season.

Brian completed his fiftieth League appearance for United over Christmas.

Incidentally although Paul had to miss the Coventry match he watched from the Elland Road stands with his wife Vicki and three year old son Jamie.

HOT OFF THE PRESS

The latest issue of the Leeds United Fan Club Newsletter was coming hot off the presses this week and all members should receive their copy in the next few days.

If you would like details about how to join the official Leeds United Fan Club, drop a line to organiser Mike Lockwood at Elland Road.

GET WELL SOON

Doctors are hoping that a taped 'get well soon' message from the United players will go a long way towards helping the recovery of a fourteen-year-old supporter who has been in a coma following an operation.

Leonard Darwood of Cleethorpes, South Humberside, is a keen United fan who went into hospital a couple of months ago and has spent several weeks in an intensive care unit.

Leonard's grandfather Mr. A. White wrote to Elland Road asking if it would be possible to record a commentary of one of United's matches. With the help of Radio Leeds, we went one better.

The United players recorded special messages to Leon-

We have also promised that when Leonard is up and about we will arrange for him to pay a visit to Elland Road to watch a match and meet the players.

SHORT STORY

Dick put his newspaper down for the third time and looked over his dark-rimmed glasses. "Go on Dad," said Chris, "Please let me join the football team at school. I can't see why you should object."

Dick sighed. "I've told you no, and I mean no. I don't have to give you an excuse. I don't want you playing in a football team."

"But Dad," said Chris. "I won't get injured, if that's what you're afraid of. I can look after myself."

Dick smiled for the first time. "I used to think that when I was your age. I finished up with a broken leg."

He rubbed his calf to illustrate the point. "I was in hospital for weeks. Thought I'd never get out."

Chris sighed. This was useless. Dads never understood.

Dick continued: "I take you to the match every Saturday to watch United and I've bought you scarves, hats and goodness knows what else. I even bought you a United teddy at Christmas. You'll have to make do with that."

He turned to the sports pages, adjusted his glasses and lit a cigarette. He settled back in his chair, Chris had quietened down. Now Dick could have a bit of peace.

"Dad."

"Now what?"

Could I join the ballet class instead then?"

"That's more like it Christine. That's more like it."

FAN FORUM

DROP US A LINE

The superb condition of the Elland Road pitch in recent weeks has prompted a number of United supporters to write and one young fan tells us that his school's pitches could do with undersoil heating similar to the system at Leeds.

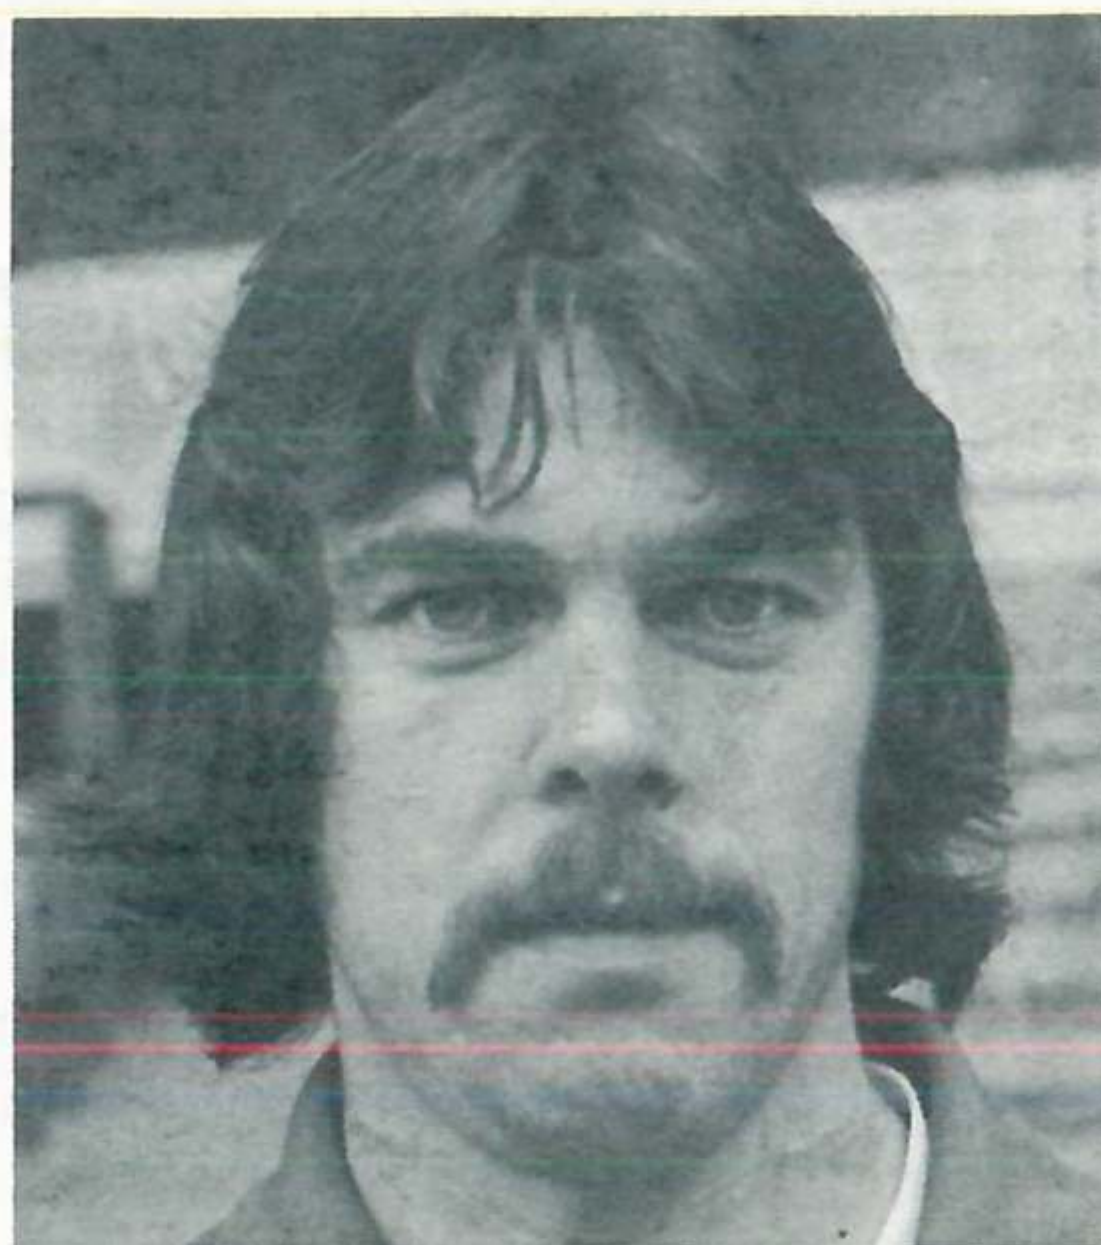

Neil Robertson, 5 Church Avenue, Ruislip, Middlesex explains: "I'm in my last year at primary school and play for the school team. We could certainly do with undersoil heating like you have at Elland Road." Apart from your school, there's a few League clubs who must envy the United heating, Neil.

Neil's great grandfather was Jimmy Gordon who played for Rangers and Scotland and Neil says: "He was considered one of the best wing halves of his day."

G. Page, of Newstead, Blackmore Lane, Bardsey, paid his first trip to Elland Road for many years when he came to watch the Southampton League Cup match. "I take my hat off to those responsible for the undersoil heating," says Mr. Page. "I was amazed at the transformation that has taken place at the ground since I last came. I remember the days of the old wooden stand before it burnt down. My day was when United had players like Russ Wainscoat, Fred Potts, Tom Jennings, Willis Edwards and Len Browning. I was at Elland Road when United played Manchester City for the Second Division Championship and I stood on an overturned bucket on the popular side. I can also recall when floodlights were first used and United played mid-week friendlies against Scottish teams."

Michelle McLaughlin, 118 Chesterfield Drive, Ipswich, is an Ipswich supporter but says that she "also likes Leeds." Michelle watched United at Norwich earlier this season and would like to write to a United supporter aged about sixteen.

Harvey for Scotland! That's the message from quite a few supporters who believe that the United 'keeper, pictured, should be back in the Scottish side. J. Simpson of Pudsey Road, Leeds 12, writes: "It surely cannot be long before Scotland turn to David again. He's having a great season and I can't think of any better Scottish 'keepers around. It surprises me that he keeps being overlooked by Scotland."

It has puzzled quite a few of us at Elland Road Mr. Simpson but there's still time for David to get back his Scottish place, perhaps for the Home internationals.

Send your letters for publication in the United match programme to: Leeds United Programme, Elland Road, Leeds 11.

SUPPORTERS CLUB

As regular readers of the United match programme will know, support for Leeds is not confined to this country. We've a huge following overseas which is growing month by month.

A branch of the United Supporters Club recently started in West Germany where there is quite a large contingent of United fans. They got together and formed the West German branch last November, covering the whole of the country. Membership details can be obtained from the secretary, Cornelius Speer, Gemmingerstr. 13, 7519 Eppingen-Richen, W. Germany.

The branch in Malta is also thriving and in a recent letter to Elland Road, secretary Hilary Attard tells us that the Maltese branch is hoping to produce a monthly newsletter containing items of news and information about the branch's activities.

There are branches of the United Supporters Club throughout this country and if you would like details of one covering your area send an s.a.e. to Supporters Club secretary Eric Carlile, 59 Appleton Court, York Road, Leeds 9.

TOP FAN

This afternoon's United Top Fan has followed the club all over Britain and throughout Europe but his first visit to Elland Road was in the days long before English sides played regular competitive games abroad.

Tommy McGuinness has been following United through thick and thin for more than forty years. Pictured with his grandson, Tommy first came to Elland Road in the late 'thirties and he says: "I've not missed many matches since."

One of Tommy's longest trips was to watch United play a European Cup Winners Cup game in Turkey in 1972. "Only a handful of supporters made the journey," he recalls, "and I was one of them."

Looking back on his days supporting Leeds, Tommy picks out the F.A. Cup win over Arsenal at Wembley as the highspot.

Tommy remains one of United's keenest fans. The day after we spoke to him, he was setting off to Southampton for the League Cup game along with his son who has followed in his Dad's shoes as a United super fan.

If you think you deserve a mention in this feature, send us details together with a recent black and white photograph. The address to write to: Top Fan, Leeds United Programme, Elland Road, Leeds 11.

CAN YOU HELP?

Do you know anything about League football before the First World War? John Harding of 143 Rathcoole Gardens, London N.8 is preparing material for a book on the game during the Edwardian period and would like to hear from any supporters who may be able to help.

If you can help, write to Mr. Harding at the above address.

BOLTON WAND

United have a score to settle with Bolton today. Back in the early part of the season Leeds were beaten 3-1 at Burnden Park and that remains only our second defeat away from Elland Road in the League this season.

Bolton in fact have some impressive results in front of their own supporters. Apart from that win over Leeds, they have beaten Manchester United, Norwich, Derby and Wolves and shared the points when Birmingham, Coventry and Manchester City visited Burnden Park.

It has been their away form that has let Bolton down and left the club struggling just above the relegation zone in this, Wanderers' first season back in the top flight for fifteen years.

Bolton's only win on their travels was at Queens Park Rangers in early December and they have twice gone under on trips to the West Country, losing at Bristol City in both the League and F.A. Cup.

Manager Ian Greaves and his assistant Stan Anderson will be looking for an improvement in the side's away results over the remainder of the season if Bolton are to climb clear of the danger area. And they will no doubt be keeping their fingers crossed that the goal output from Frank Worthington and Alan Gowling does not dry up over the next couple of months.

These former Huddersfield Town strikers return to West Yorkshire today with an outstanding scoring record. Between them they have been responsible for all but a handful of Bolton's goals this season and Worthington currently heads the First Division's scorers' table.

There has never been any doubt about Worthington's class but in his last couple of seasons with Leicester City the former England number nine seemed to lose his way at Filbert Street. He went on loan to Burnden Park early last season to rejoin Greaves who had been his manager at Huddersfield. The goals began to flow again and after a permanent move to Lancashire, Worthington has emerged this season with a flourish.

Gowling's career began at Old Trafford but his reputation as one of the game's most consistent marksmen was developed at Huddersfield where he netted 58 goals in 128 League games.

When Huddersfield dropped down the League ladder, Gowling moved on to Newcastle where he averaged around a goal every third game before linking up again with Bolton in a £120,000 move almost twelve months ago.

That fee was a record for Wanderers until the signing of Neil McNab for £250,000 from Tottenham in September. McNab was a member of Scotland's original World Cup pool for Argentina last year but lost out at White Hart Lane following the signing of Ardiles in the summer.

While there are bound to be a fair number of new names to United followers in today's Bolton side, Willie Morgan and Tony Dunne need no introduction. Dunne put in more than 400 League appearances for Manchester United and although Morgan had two spells with Burnley it was at Old Trafford that his career really took off.

Goalkeeper Jim McDonagh was a £10,000 signing from Rotherham two years ago and his understudy at Burnden Park is another former Huddersfield player Terry Poole.

Bolton's defence is built around two towering centre backs in England Under-23 defender Paul Jones and Sam Allardyce, a Midlander who has been a regular in the Wanderers' back four for the past three years.

Peter Nicholson — originally with Blackpool — can play at the back or in midfield and club skipper Roy Greaves has played an important part in the club's rise back to prominence over the last few seasons.

Manchester-born Mike Walsh is another versatile player in the Bolton line-up and youngster David Burke got his first team chance against Chelsea in a League Cup game earlier this season.

Brian Smith scored one of the goals that beat United in October and has experience of playing in the United States. He operates in mid-field where Bolton have been deprived of the services of England Under-21 man Peter Reid in recent matches. Reid was injured in the New Year's Day game against Everton which was later abandoned because of the conditions.

Neil Whatmore has been the side's leading scorer for the past two seasons but has struggled to gain a regular place this season due mainly to the success of the formidable Worthington-Gowling partnership. Another youngster, Chris Thompson is an England youth cap who has shown plenty of promise since moving up from the apprentice ranks at Burnden Park.

BOLTON FACTS AT A GLANCE

The club was founded in 1874 as Christ Church F.C. and became Bolton Wanderers in 1877. They were original members of the League eleven years later.

Although winners of the F.A. Cup four times, Bolton have never won the League Championship. They have finished third three times.

Nat Lofthouse scored a record 255 League goals for the club between 1946 and 1961. Eddie Hopkinson holds the club's appearance record — 519 League games between 1956 and 1970.

Bolton's record win was 13-0 against Sheffield United in an F.A. Cup tie in 1890. Their heaviest defeat was by 0-7 to Manchester City in a League match in 1936.

SPOTLIGHT ON

BYRON STEVENSON

It has been an eventful few months for United's talented defender who has made his international debut and carved out a regular place for himself in the Welsh side, had an extended run in the United first team and scored his first League goal. And it's all happened since last May.

"Making my debut for Wales in the game against Northern Ireland at Wrexham ranks as the highspot of my career so far," explains Byron. "And the goal in the League match against West Bromwich at Elland Road was also something special."

Byron made thirteen consecutive appearances in League and Cup games for United over the start of this season, his best run of games since making his League debut for United at Sheffield United in April 1975. But then he was injured and as he says: "I was a bit unlucky because while I was missing through injury the side hit a good patch and the manager could not change a winning line-up."

Although he prefers playing in the back four alongside the centre-half, the majority of Byron's first team appearances have been at full back.

"I don't really mind where I play," he points out. "Playing in the middle of the back four probably comes more naturally to me because that's where I've played most of my games in the reserves and junior teams at Elland Road."

"I even had a spell in midfield for the reserves but I quite like playing at full back and to be honest I'd turn out anywhere for the first team."

Like Carl Harris, featured in our last programme spotlight, Byron is looking forward to Wales' crucial European Championship game against West Germany in three months' time.

"We've a couple of wins under our belts so far and if we can beat the Germans it will give us a great chance of qualifying. As Carl said in the last programme, there's a lot of confidence in the Welsh squad at the moment and I think we all fancy our chances against West Germany."

"I'm also looking forward to the last few months of the season with Leeds because I think we stand a great chance of getting into Europe next season and it's always been one of my ambitions to play for United in Europe."

RESERVES REPORT

United's Central League side got back into action last week with their first match for six weeks after a spell of postponements caused by the weather.

"It was rather like starting a new season and not surprisingly we looked a little bit rusty," explained coach Brian Green.

United were beaten 0-2 at Coventry in Mid-week but fared better in taking a point off a very experienced Newcastle side in a 0-0 draw at Elland Road last Saturday.

Peter Hampton played his first game for four months at Coventry following an ankle injury, and Peter Daly and Sean Sturman — a second half substitute for Billy McGhie — were playing only their second games in four months.

United had a couple of good spells at Highfield Road but trailed by two goals at half time. David Reid went the nearest to scoring when he was through but Sealey in the Coventry goal saved well.

United team v Coventry: Smith, Parker, Hampton, Savill, Firm, Reynard, Lorimer, Daly, Reid, McGhie, Whyte. Sub: Sturman. Without a first team game on Saturday, Newcastle included a number of established players in their team at Elland Road including Mick Martin, Peter Withe, Irving Natrass and Terry Hibbitt. Considering Newcastle's strength, United's youngsters did well with Neil Firm keeping a close eye on Withe.

We might have had a first half penalty when Reid was brought down but the referee waved play on and although Newcastle created chances United's defence held out and we earned a good point.

JUNIOR REPORT

After their long break United's juniors had a couple of good results last week with a 1-1 draw at Bolton in the F.A. Youth Cup and a 4-1 win over Hull in the Northern Intermediate League. A second half goal by David Matthews earned us a replay against Bolton after the home side had taken the lead early on. The replay was due to have been played at Elland Road on Tuesday but was postponed.

Three first half goals from David Bennett and Steve Balcombe (2) set United on the way to a fine win over Hull. Although the visitors pulled one back, David Matthews restored our three goal lead. United were reduced to ten men in the closing minutes after an injury to Hawkins but we were always good value for the win.

TURNSTILE TALK

The important question facing a lot of clubs after the recent wholesale postponement of League matches is what effect will this have on attendances when the matches are played towards the end of the season?

Most clubs agree that a glut of home fixtures near the end of the season often means a fall in gates due to spectators becoming slightly more selective and this point must be worrying quite a few clubs who are building up a backlog of matches.

Yet it is interesting to look back on the attendance figures for the 1962-63 season, the last really bad winter when the League programme ground to a halt from around early January until March and the season was extended to late May.

Despite all the problems the final figures reached nearly 29 million, the best attendance statistics for six seasons in the early sixties.

The eight First Division games that were played last Saturday produced disappointing gate returns with Arsenal and Birmingham — playing their first League game at home for two months — attracting their lowest crowds of the season.

Even the day's best gate, at Maine Road for the Manchester derby, was down on what might have been expected in better conditions. The 46,151 attendance was a few hundred below Manchester City's best of the season, recorded for a match against Liverpool back in August when watching football was a warmer pastime than it has been of late.

OUR NEXT VISITORS

The Canaries come to Elland Road a fortnight today, Saturday 3rd March, and it is likely to be a much changed Norwich City side on duty compared with the team that played here last season.

Manager John Bond has rung the changes in recent weeks and given first team chances to several of his Carrow Road youngsters.

City have not won an away game in the League so far this season but they have only been beaten three times on their travels and have proved a difficult side to break down.

DID YOU KNOW . . .

. . . that Leeds United will be celebrating its 60th birthday in October? The club was formed in October 1919 after the disbandment of the Leeds City club.

And we have already received an early birthday card from two keen supporters living in Kettering, Northants, Tracey White and Maria Fraterrigo. Thanks for the cards girls, and the good wishes to everyone at Elland Road.

LEEDS UNITED v BOLTON WANDERERS

WEDNESDAY 25th APRIL, 1979 — PROGRAMME INSERT

IN TOWN TONIGHT . . .

When Bolton were originally due to visit Elland Road a couple of months ago they were struggling just above the relegation Zone. But Wanderers have put some good results together in the last few weeks to climb clear of trouble and before losing at Everton last week, Bolton had taken twelve points from seven matches including a 2-1 win at Manchester United. Bolton's scorer at Old Trafford was Frank Worthington, the First Division's leading scorer who with Alan Gowling, has been responsible for the bulk of his side's goals this season.

A new name in the Wanderers' back four recently has been Mike Graham, a youngster from Lancaster who made one appearance as substitute last season and who has settled in at full back in the last few weeks.

Former England Under-23 defender Paul Jones and Sam Allardyce are together again at the centre of the Bolton defence and there is plenty of experience in midfield from Scottish winger Willie Morgan, club skipper Roy Greaves and Neil McNab who moved to Burnden Park from Tottenham for a record fee last September.

Apart from the win at Manchester United, Bolton's other victory away from home was at Q.P.R. in December. They have drawn five away games at Coventry, Middlesbrough, Norwich, Nottingham Forest and Southampton.

TONIGHT'S REFEREE . . .

Tonight's referee for the visit of Bolton is Alex Hamil from Wolverhampton who was due to take charge of the original match in February.

Mr. Hamil works as a senior foreman in a Government workshop and has been on the League list since 1973 after taking up refereeing some twenty years ago. He has refereed in Italy and was a linesman for the Scotland-Northern Ireland international in 1976 and the Wales-Northern Ireland game last season. Our linesmen tonight were also appointed for the original date, N. Barnes from Boldon Colliery, Tyne and Wear and J. M. Smith from Stockton-on-Tees.

RESERVES REPORT

United's Reserves returned with a point from both their visits to the Midlands last week, drawing 0-0 at West Bromwich last Wednesday and 1-1 at Villa on Saturday.

Manager Jimmy Adamson watched our youngsters in action against an Albion side that has been getting some good results in the Central League and saw United battle hard in difficult conditions. United team v West Bromwich: Smith, Parker, Skilling, McGhie, Stevenson, Tyerman, Savill, Whyte, Thomas, Matthews, Daly.

Villa took the lead with a penalty a minute before half time on Saturday after an even first half. "We battled away after the break and Henry Smith made some good saves including a vital one just before the end when he dived at the feet of a Villa forward who was clear," explained coach Syd Farrimond.

United's equaliser came a minute from time when David Matthews, pictured, knocked the ball home from five yards out after several near misses on the Villa line.

United team v Villa: Smith, Parker, Hampton, Savill, Stevenson, Tyerman, McGhie, Whyte, Matthews, Thomas, Reid. Sub: Daly.

TONIGHT'S PROGRAMME

Our home game against Bolton Wanderers was due to have been played at Elland Road in the middle of February. The bad weather a couple of months ago caused the postponement and we apologise to supporters that some of the features in tonight's programme have become dated. To compensate, we are including an up to date insert featuring all the latest United Facts and Figures, tonight's half-time score check and an up date on our visitors from Burnden Park. The closing date for entries in the Name the Player competition on page five is Saturday, 28th April, and we will be awarding a prize of two seat tickets for a future match at Elland Road to the sender of the first correct entry drawn out next Saturday.

TICKET TALK

Seat tickets for our next home game against Queens Park Rangers at Elland Road on Saturday, 5th May, are available now from the main Ticket Office at the ground which is open between 9.15 a.m. and 5 p.m. on weekdays and until kick-off on Saturdays.

Rangers' First Division days seem to be numbered after a disappointing season but there is plenty at stake for United over the remaining matches with the prize of a place in Europe next season.

The London club signed Everton Striker Micky Walsh, once a team mate of United's Paul Hart at Blackpool, just before the transfer deadline last month and the Eire international scored in his debut against Derby at the end of March.

Rangers have won two away games this season at Chelsea and Middlesbrough and when United played at Loftus Road just after Christmas, we recorded our best away win of the season, a 4-1 success. We also beat Rangers in the League Cup earlier this season and will be hoping to make it a hat-trick on Saturday week.

Full details about our remaining matches are available on the United Information Service, telephone Leeds 702621.

STARS AND STRIPES SOCCER . . .

New York Cosmos are the most popular North American Soccer club with United fans judging by the demand there has been for Cosmos pennants in the Elland Road Souvenir Shops.

A wide range of twenty four NASL pennants went on display in the United Sports and Souvenir Shop a couple of weeks ago and the demand has been so great that we sold out of Cosmos pennants within a few days.

Other popular clubs include Detroit Express, Tampa Bay Rowdies, Chicago Sting and California Surf and you will find a complete range on sale before and after tonight's game.

Call in at either the Sports and Souvenir Shop on Elland Road or the Kop Shop on the Lowfield Road side of the ground and take a look at the American soccer pennants. Both shops are open after the game and don't forget to get your copy of the souvenir brochure produced for Eddie Gray's Testimonial. It is full of great photos and features tracing Eddie's career back to the start and there are special tributes from a host of personalities including United Manager Jimmy Adamson, Maurice Lindley, Billy Bremner, Jack Charlton, Frank Gray and Tony Currie. Eddie's Brochure is also available on mail order for 45p, including post and packing, 80p for overseas supporters.

A HAPPY EASTER . . .

What an Easter it has been for another group of big winners in the Leeds and United Lotteries. On one morning soon after the holiday we paid out £2,500 instantly to lucky winners and among those who have struck it rich in the Leeds and United Lotteries have been:

K. Plummer of Belle Isle, Leeds 10
R. Pounder, of Leeds 13
Mrs. M. Shaw of Odsal, Bradford
Mrs. M. Philips, of Leeds 6
Mrs. C. Milner, of Normanton
T. McKenzie, of Leeds 6.

You have a chance to join these people in the money tonight so make sure of buying your Leeds and United Lottery ticket from the kiosks around the ground. Each lottery pays out a top cash prize of £1,000 every week and remember that the Leeds and United Lotteries are the only ones in the area with a 12-panel ticket that provides more panels, more chances and more winners.
